Sin is sin. Whether committed by King,
Pope or prostitute.

Hus used “Exegesis” -- He preached from scripture

“Some would say: ‘You, Hus, always, do not want to subject yourself to your superior, you disobey your elders, and the Archbishop.’ I answer, ‘I want to be the donkey of Balaam.’ I resist their strength as the legs of the stubborn donkey and will not obey them because the Angel of the Lord is obstructing the way.”

Priests are guilty of not teaching the scriptures

Jesus said, “I am the good shepherd; I know my sheep.” Yet, “We shepherds of today do not know all our sheep, but only those which will give us more money for their wool!”

The priests should be moral beacons for the people.

“While Master Hus preached against us worldly ones, we bore it willingly and patiently, but now it is your turn! You also must bear it.”

1. The big argument: Did Christ wear sandals or walk barefoot?

Hus: “I don’t care whether he came in bare feet or walked in sandals, I just care that he came to save me!”

The success of his preaching was the fact that John Hus was a sermon before he preached it.
